“Education the Key” says Minister

Both the Mayor of Galway, Pádraig Conneely and Minister Éamon Ó Cuív stressed the importance of education in the fight against HIV and STIs at the launch of AIDS West’s new website in the Galway City Museum, on Monday 22nd September. Launched by Minister Ó Cuív, the event was a great success with many of the organisation’s sponsors and supporters present. As a support organisation for all those who are affected by HIV, AIDS West believes it is important that clear, up-to-date information is available in a user-friendly and welcoming format and that is what the new website now offers. Why not log onto www.aidswest.ie where you will find contact details of its major services, location map, and a calendar of events as well as current articles and features on HIV/STIs. In order to ensure that all website users can access vital information, one of the major additions is the translation of key information into Irish, Spanish, French, Polish, Russian and Portuguese as well as many important links to international HIV support organisations.

The only HIV organisation in the west of Ireland, AIDS West delivers the highest quality care and support to people living with HIV/AIDS and sexually transmitted infections (STIs) in Galway, Mayo and Roscommon. Anyone worried about his or her sexual health can contact the helpline number at 091-562213 or email info@aidswest.ie

The office is situated at Ozanam House, St. Augustine St. Galway. Office hours are 9.00am to 16.45pm Monday - Friday.
